No City Hall

We have had excellent response to our straw ballot on the new city hall.

For deadline purposes, this editorial is being written many hours before the deadline for the straw ballots passed. But even now the ballots are running heavily against a new city hall.

At this early hour it looks as if the people have already spoken.

We, of course, have campaigned loud and long against a new city hall project at this time. We feel there should be more severe built first.

City officials say there is no conflict. They say the money to build sewers from the federal government is separate from the money to build city halls. They say it is not an either/or proposition.

But what about all the local funds being spent on the city hall. City officials have confirmed that if the city scrapped all plans for a city hall at this time that the city would still have to pay the architects in the neighborhood of $35,000. The fact the architect designed a 1,066 million dollar city hall when he was asked to design something in the neighborhood of $600,000 doesn't cut any ice. He still gets paid.

Time is another element. How much time has each commissioner spent on the new city hall project. Could they have better spent that time trying to work something out on our building moratorium?

Our vote is no too on a new city hall.

Bah, Humbug!!

Politics—bah!!

Whatever happens to the good old days when political rallies were held and all the candidates got up and spoke to the issues. What happened to the civic groups that sponsored such rallies?

What do we get today instead? We get posters stuck all over town. And we get cards showed in our hands or left to stare at us from every eating establishment in town.

We conducted a small experiment down here at this paper during this city election. In the past we have always sat down with each candidate and asked him his views on the issues.

But we had to go to the candidate. We had to ask him what he thought.

So this year we decided to sit back and watch what happened. Sure enough it was what we predicted. None of the candidates have come to us with the issues.

This campaign seems to be more along the lines of emotion rather than issues. Belle Glade is a great place to live in many respects—but there are lots of things which can stand changing and improving.

So far no issues have surfaced. Goodness only knows there are enough of them to keep five city elections hopping. We are disappointed in seeing the election take such a turn.

Right On, Betty!!

Betty Hatton, candidate for state committee woman on the Republican ticket, hit the nail on the head this past Friday night at a Republican candidates' past dinner at the Pahokee Elks Club.

She said that if the Glades had more representation—a stronger voice if you will—Nelson Rockefeller might never have been named vice president by President Gerald Ford. An understatement this, if there ever was one.

Ford couldn't have picked a person further from the mainstream of Glades thinking than Nelson Rockefeller. If any appointment could have sealed his doom more with conservative Republicans than the appointment of Rockefeller, we don't know of it. So let's get back to the point at home. All you Republicans, Betty Hatton is running for state committeewoman. This means if she is elected she will be a voting member of the Florida delegation at the nominating convention in 1976.

It may be a small voice—but let's see to it the Glades is heard in 1976.

Senator Power

Lawton Chiles is taking more of an active interest in State Rd. 80.

This can only help the Glades. While the project is not a federal one as Chiles has pointed out, having the weight of a real live U.S. Senator thrown behind it can only expedite the project.

Everyone in the Glades should sit down and write Chiles a letter about the road and thank him for his interest. Getting that road four-laned even one year ahead of the DOT's schedule might save your life or the life of a loved one.

It is a menace as it now exists—this anybody who has driven it once can plainly see. It is a shame the DOT doesn't really want to build this road. If it did the road would be scheduled for completion in 1975, not 1985—if even then.

Here Come the Floods

Dear Sir:

In accordance with the provisions of section 201 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-234, December 31, 1973, hereinafter referred to as the 1973 Act), the purpose of this letter is to give you formal notice of the tentative identification by the Federal Insurance Administration (FIA), on behalf of the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, that your community contains one or more areas having special flood hazards. A map showing the boundaries of the areas affected by the proposed identification is enclosed.

The effect of this notification, as required under the 1973 Act, is to inform communities that are not presently participating in the National Flood Insurance Program of the flood danger to which they appear to be exposed and to give them an opportunity to enroll promptly in the program so that their residents will be protected financially against future floods losses, since flood insurance is not available privately. However, if you believe that your community either is not seriously flood prone, or that such flood hazards as may have existed have been corrected by floodworks or other flood control methods, the community may appeal the proposed determination.

If it desires to appeal, the community, at any time during the next six months, should submit to FIA whatever technical or scientific data it may have that is sufficient to prove its contention that it is not flood-prone. If the Federal Insurance Administrator concurs in the evidence submitted, then the proposed identification will be cancelled.

If the community does not successfully refute FIA's proposed identification, then it must seek eligibility for the sale of Federally-subsidized flood insurance by adopting preliminary land use and control measures to help reduce or avoid flood losses and by applying to FIA for participation in the program. Generally, flood insurance can be made available within two weeks after receipt of a complete application. Flood insurance will then be available through any licensed property insurance agent or broker in the community.

Communities where special flood hazard areas have been formally identified must be actively participating in the program by June 30, 1975 for one year after identification, whichever is later, or else no Federal financial assistance, such as loans or grants, and no mortgage loans from Federally insured or regulated banks or savings and loan associations will thereafter be available for buildings within these identified special hazard areas. The details of this prohibition are set out in section 202 of the 1973 Act (copy enclosed) and in the individual regulations of the various Federal agencies.

In addition to its community participation requirement, the 1973 Act also requires that individuals within eligible areas purchase flood insurance in connection with all Federal or Federally-related assistance (including mortgage loans from Federally-insured lending institutions) that is received after March 1, 1974, for buildings within identified special flood hazard areas. The amount of flood insurance required is the amount of the loan balance or the maximum amount of insurance available, whichever is less.

Aside from these new participation requirements, the 1973 Act essentially constitutes an expansion and improvement of the National Flood Insurance Program authorized under the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (P.L. 90-488, August 1, 1968; 42 U.S.C. 4011-4127). The 1973 Act provided greatly increased limits of subsidized and total coverage, repealed the provision that would have denied Federal disaster assistance after December 31, 1973, for those who could have purchased flood insurance but did not do so (this requirement was replaced with the insurance purchase requirement explained above), and permitted substantial reductions in subsidized flood insurance premium rates.

We believe the National Flood Insurance Program has been greatly improved by the 1973 Act and that ever flood-prone community in the United States will eventually benefit from its provisions. The provisions of the 1968 Act requiring the adoption and periodic updating of adequate local land use and control measures within the flood plain as a condition of continued eligibility for Federal flood insurance remains unchanged, however. These requirements are set out in section 1910.3 of the enclosed program regulations.

More than 3,000 communities had voluntarily entered the National Flood Insurance Program before this letter was written, and more are applying each day. We have therefore enclosed a packet of materials that will assist you in making application, and we would be glad to assist you in any other way that we can. The telephone number of the Office of Flood Insurance within FIA is (202) 755-5581.

Please let us hear from you at your earliest convenience.

Things like Tommy Altman quitting a good job with the city and qualifying for a city commission race at the last minute just don't happen.

There had to be some planning and some backing. Don't believe it if somebody tells you there are no political cliques in city government.

Altman is a bright young man who follows through on ideas. People working with the Chamber of Commerce have told me he is an exceptionally responsive city employee.

But unless he went into this race with some real strong guarantees from some real strong people to carry them out, he is terribly misguided. I certainly hope this isn't the case because Tom has always been most cooperative with this newspaper concerning city government. Now, what he does to me on a golf course is another matter we won't go into here.

The Belle Glade Herald was a little late in getting out last week, although we did honor our Thursday deadline. To our readers we apologize—but those things happen.

To make a long story short we spent many hours on the phone to Atlanta requesting help in adjusting the voltage and other facets of our typesetting computer. In the heat of the rush to beat deadline we overlooked the forest for the trees.

It turned out not to be our computer at all. Instead we had somehow contaminated some chemicals which made our copy come out too light to photograph.

Oh, well, live and learn.

Cracker Crumbs is missing from today's editorial page. We gave the jolly fat man a couple weeks vacation. He mumbled something about headline for Colorado before he left—although five will get you 10 he's still in a city I recommended to him.

I told him as long as he's headed out west he might as well spend an evening or two in the fabulous city of New Orleans. The more I told him about all the fabulous places to eat and drink the more the idea started to take hold.

My only regret is that he may like to so much he will request to be the first Bourbon Street Correspondent.

Adams' Thoughts on Florida

We believe Florida is suffering from a consistent lack of leadership over these past nearly four years, coupled with a philosophy towards the views and values of the great mass of Floridians.

We happen to believe in our Cabinet System of Government as it is uniquely structured in our state of Florida—that it is decidedly superior, in that it provides a vital system of checks and balances and, in its open forum, insures that all voices may be heard. We differ strenuously with those who would attempt to run roughshod from time to time, over a Cabinet majority, and who work to concentrate all power in a single office.

We differ, too, with those who attempt to seize more and more of the prerogatives of local elected government—those who seek to impose from on high, their own philosophies on those local elected officials who are closest to the people and to the issues in their communities.

We are concerned at the same time, with the cost of state government—escalating as fantastically as it has—with its growing remoteness—the delegation of more and more power and authority to a far-flung bureaucracy—the phantom government.

We believe not only in the careful and cautious protection of our natural resources—that they may forever be abundant and plenty—but also in their wise use, in their continuing service to mankind.

People in Florida want government to move closer to them, not further away. They know that their own means are limited and they believe that the taxing and spending of State Government should be governed accordingly. They feel the continuing pinch on their pocketbooks with rising costs and increasing unemployment. They expect government to furnish relief, rather than add to the burden.

They want leaders who will govern by the values and standards of Florida and its people, not those dictated by political opinions for high national office!

Clean Sweep!!

"I don't think we should make him pay a dime," said Mayor Aubrey Farmer. "We mow an awful lot of vacant lots with city equipment and labor and don't get one thing dime."

The parking lots of several businesses used to be swept with city equipment, it was pointed out. The practice was stopped when too many people wanted the service and the city equipment couldn't handle the requests.

Then came the argument of how much would be a reasonable fee. Everybody was asked what they thought was a reasonable fee and a only one who would commit himself was Farmer.

"Zero, that's what I think should be paid," said Farmer.

After 15 minutes of haggling over whether a fee should be paid or not and if so how much the commission finally took the easy way out. They threw it in City Manager William Mallory's lap, asking him to come up with a per square foot cost and report back to the commission at its next meeting.

In Brandenburg, persons afflicted with giddiness were advised to run naked three times around a flag pole. This made the flag giddy and the patient well. Actually, the whole thing seems a little giddy!

Florida Sugar Industries Begin '74-75 Season

The Florida sugar industry started its 1974-75 planting season August 26, state Nelson Fairbanks, vice president & general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League. We'll be using approximately 200 workers to cut seed cane and plant it for the 1975-76 crop, he added.

The week of August 19, six sugar industry recruiting teams visited 35 employment offices in Florida trying to find workers to cut cane. After a considerable amount of recruiting, 93 workers were hired for the jobs, said Earl Morrison, personnel manager for U.S. Sugar Corporation. Only 19 actually came to work.

Since we need 850 cane cutters, the rest will have to be off-shore workers from Jamaica, Morrison said. "We've done this recruiting, the government calls it 'positive recruiting,' since World War II," he stated. "This is a continuing effort to attract domestic workers for this employment."

This year the industry will spend about $50,000 in advertising for these jobs, according to Morrison. We will continue to recruit in Florida and the Southeastern states as the season progresses.

The 1974-75 harvest season will begin in November, stated Fairbanks. Sugar cane production, according to USDA's Crop Reporting Board, is estimated at 8.3 million tons, practically the same as the 1973 crop.

Harvested acres of cane is expected to total 276,000 acres, up four percent from the 265,000 acres harvested during the previous season, according to Fairbanks.

However, USDA reported the average yield is expected to be 1.4 tons per acre less than last year's low yield of 31.4 tons. Freezing weather during December damaged young plant and cane stubble, which caused a lower yield.

We've also experienced a good bit of rain and a few of our growers have had some water standing in their fields, he mentioned.

Although we are looking forward to a good harvest season, Fairbanks said, we don't anticipate breaking any production records.

Farmers Have Rights Also

ORLANDO - "Farmers have just as much right to fair profit as anyone else," Fred Montedeca, president of the Agribusiness Institute of Florida, declared here this week.

Speaking of continuing stories of rising food prices and resultant consumer criticism, Montedeca said the food and fibre producer and processor has constantly increasing costs just as all businessmen do.

"Food production," he said, "has in recent years been forced to become highly sophisticated in order to continue to serve the needs of the consumer with quality, nutritious product. Today's farmer is a well-educated person who must utilize horticultural skills along with those of business and financial management. Yet he seems generally expected to get along on income below that of his fellow-citizens."

The agribusiness leader asked consumers to be fair and realistic in their thinking and to remember the American homemaker still spends a smaller percentage of total family income on food than does the homemaker in any other nation.

Montedeca's group, the Agribusiness Institute of Florida, is a non-profit organization telling the story of agribusiness to the Florida consumer. Membership includes food producers, processors and distributors as well as agricultural supply and service organizations.

FCD Acts on Issues

Major water resource issues affecting several sections of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District (FCD) were acted on by the FCD Governing Board at its meeting Aug. 16.

The meeting included such crucial issues as the discharge of water from Lake Okechobee and current flooding problems in Hendry County. In discussing the FCD budget, proposals for the 1974-75 fiscal year, the item of water discharge from Lake Okechobee was raised. Discharges have been necessitated by the unusually large amounts of rain that have fallen on the state since June. To maintain a safe Lake level during the hurricane season, the water was discharged.

"There is no doubt in our minds that if the work around Lake Okechobee to raise the Lake level to 17.5 feet were completed, we would not need to be discharging this water now," said Clark.

At this point, Zeb Grant, Field Services Director, stated that the Corps had advised that St. Lucie Canal discharges have been reduced to 3000 cubic feet per second.

The Corps of Engineers' plan to raise the lake was first proposed in 1948, but funding from the Federal Government has been inadequate to complete the construction of the Hoover Dam and attendant facilities to make the higher level safe for surrounding landowners.

Bill Storch, FCD Director of Resource Planning, said the additional capacity of the Lake will total about a million acre feet of water-enough to have provided needed relief during the recent drought and to eliminate the need to discharge water now.

The FCD is asking the Federal Government for $6.33 million for fiscal year 1976 to complete the work on the Lake. The last major lock and spillway structure is currently under construction at Port Mayaca. Clark noted that the District hopes to be able to raise the Lake level by 1977.

The Board agreed to work with private landowners in Hendry County to relieve the recurrent flooding problems in the eastern portion of that county. The agreement entails additional culverts being placed in area canals to take the water off the affected land more quickly.

The Board noted that this program will probably not give relief this year, but will be in operation by next rainy season and should of some help to the area until the permanent program designed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers can be completed.

Q. I have heard that there is a cherry tree that will grow in South Florida that produces fruit high in Vitamin C. Can you give me some details on it.

The Barbados cherry or West Indian cherry (Malpighia glabra L.) is valued for its fruits, which are extremely rich in Vitamin C, and for its use in landscaping. It serves well as a specimen plant or as a border hedge when set 2 ft. to 4 ft. apart. It sometimes reaches a height of 12 ft. The five-petaled flowers are pale pink to rose colored. In this area, it usually blooms in April and continues throughout the summer. Two or three crops of fruit usually mature from early May to November.

The fruits are thin-skinned and are easily bruised and highly perishable. They are soft and juicy and range in taste from tart to almost sweet. They vary in size from 1/4 inch to slightly more than 1 inch. They are three-lobed and vary in color from light to crimson red. The fruits may be borne singly or in clusters of two or three. They are used to make teas, beverages, preserves, jams and jellies.

Propagation is most successful by hardwood cuttings. Vermiculite, peat moss or sand, or a mixture of any of these materials may be used as a rooting medium. The cuttings should be kept moist and under shade. Either a constant or an interrupted water mist will aid in prevention of dehydration and will hasten rooting. The cuttings should be 5 inches to 10 inches long and 1/4 inch to 1/2 inch in diameter. Two or three leaves should be left on the upper portion of the stem. Roots are formed within two months. Air layering may be done during spring and summer while the plants are growing. Roots should form in from four to six weeks.

Seeds may be used without removing them from the encasing stone. If they are cleaned of all flesh and allowed to dry before being planted, a seed protectant will help prevent damping-off. Germination is frequently less than 50 per cent.

Plants should be fertilized just before new growth starts in late February with a 6-6-6 analysis fertilizer at the rate of about one pound of fertilizer for each year of life of the tree. In May, July, and September, a 4-8-8 fruit fertilizer may be used at the same rate. Apply fertilizer from near the trunk to one or two feet beyond the spread of the branches. After about ten years, the amount of fertilizer applied each year should remain constant, 10 lbs. for each application in May, July, and September, and 5 lbs. in the early spring.

Duck Season Opens

TALLAHASSEE—The 1974-75 season for hunting migratory ducks and coot will open at 12:00 noon on Wednesday, Nov. 27 and continue with daily hunting, except in Leon County and Lake Micouche in Jefferson county, through Jan. 20, 1975.

In announcing the season for duck and coot hunting, Dr. O.E. Frye, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said, "By selecting a noon opening for the first day of hunting, Florida sportsmen will be able to enjoy a full season of 55 days. If the Commission had elected to continue with the traditional Thanksgiving morning opening we would have lost five days of duck hunting."

Frye continued, "The Federal season framework provided a choice of a 50 day season with a morning opening or a 55 day season with a noon opening. In the past Florida duck hunters have always expressed a desire for the maximum hunting opportunity."

Duck hunters in Florida will again participate in a point system that will govern the daily bag limit. The daily limit is reached when the point value of the last bird taken reaches or exceeds 100 points. Point values are assigned as follows:

100 points — fulvous tree duck
70 points — Florida duck, wood duck, hen mallard, black duck and hooded merganser.
25 points — drake mallard, mallard, green-winged teal, ring-necked duck, gadwall, widgeon (halfpate), ruddy duck, shoveler, bufflehead, and goldeneye.
10 points — sculp (bluebill), blue-winged teal, red-breasted and American merganser, and all sea ducks.

Frye stated, "There will be no open season for canvasback or redhead ducks during the 1974-75 season. In addition Florida sportsmen are reminded that the season is closed to all goose hunting."

The daily point system will not apply to coot hunting. The daily bag limit for coot is 15 per day.

In addition to the regular statewide waterfowl hunting season of Nov. 27, through Jan. 20 there will be a special 10 day sculp-only hunting season in designated areas. The sculp-only season will run from Jan. 21 through Jan. 31.

Legal shooting hours for ducks and coot are from one-half hour before sunrise, to sunset, except on opening day, Nov. 27, when the legal hours are from 12:00 noon to sunset.

Survey Shows Support for Cutback

A survey of Floridians' attitudes on priorities for federal spending shows overwhelming support for cutbacks in federal spending to help combat inflation.

The mail survey, conducted by Senator Lawton Chiles (D-Fla.), a member of the Senate's new budget committee, asked Florida voters to assess former President Nixon's $205 billion budget proposal now before Congress and note their preference for increased or reduced spending in each of the twelve main budget areas.

"People seem well aware that less of billions of dollars in federal deficits have helped create the inflationary crisis the economy faces today," noted Chiles.

Not a single national defense area received a majority response for increased federal spending and in only three areas did support for more spending exceed the demand for cutbacks by narrow margins. They are national resources and environment (37% more; 22% less; health (35% more; 27% less); and veterans benefits (28% more; 19% less).

Foreign aid (64% less; 5% more) and national defense (55% less; 17% more) were top targets for spending cuts. Chiles also spearheaded the drive for a domestic summit meeting on the economy along with a bipartisan group of four other freshman senators, a proposal President Ford has now agreed to.

Commenting on the value of the priorities survey beyond the immediate results that were tabulated, Chiles commented:

"Ever since I arrived in Washington, I've been concerned with the growing alienation of the people from their government — a feeling that the individual taxpayer has much control. Declining voter turnout signals just how deeply that frustration has spread."

"What's been missing is the mechanism for people to express their will, to have some meaningful input. The response to this budget survey demonstrated that consulting with the people on how their government spends their money and for what purposes is one way to forge a new link between people and their government."

"It also helps them to understand the gut issues we in the Congress must face up to. For all the value you might see in each spending program on its own merits, you're forced to add them up when you do the bottom line leaves a lot of red ink that we simply can no longer tolerate."

Results of the survey follow:

LABOR DAY Once each year our day in honor of its working people. And rightly so. Our need to rely on natural resources, but it is the skill of our people in converting these materials into useful goods, that truly makes us rich. And it is the willingness of our people to labor that has enabled us to become the strongest and most powerful nation in all of history.

The fact that our citizens have the freedom to choose the type of work each feels best suited to, increases the willingness to work. The right and privilege to change type or share of labor for personal gain is another in the long list of advantages our citizens may claim.

This Labor Day, let us all reflect that it is the WILLINGNESS TO WORK on the part of our people that has brought our nation to its present stature and has provided all the goods and services we enjoy. And while we rest a while from our labors, let us resolve to continue a willingness to work so that our nation will ever remain strong.

News From The Home Front

The Belle Glade Herald, Aug. 29, 1974, 1 B

Now-quick!!! Did they make teachers as pretty as Aggie (Gressinger) Resmondo above when you were in school? No Way! A former graduate of Belle Glade High, Aggie (everybody calls me Aggie) has returned to her alma mater as a first year teacher and is now signing in for work above. Meanwhile at the right George Cona tries to tell Judy Battle how to type. Only comment from the teacher was something about the blind trying to lead the blind. But below the real work begins as the cooks prepare out of these good two meals at Glades Central. It was a momentous day for the man at the lower right, Charles McCurdy, who started his first day at work at the job he went to court to fight for and win-principal of Glades Central. And at the lower right-well-you know. A few relaxing moments before the ordeal of classes for a whole nether year. Cheer up kids-only 179 more working days left to go until school's out again!!!!!!

Belle Glade Jaycees to Help in Telethon

Belle Glade will have a part in the nationally televised Jerry Lewis Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy for the fourth consecutive year, according to Wayne Meredith, local telethon chairman.

As in the past, the local telethon center will be in the Jaycee's clubhouse, behind the Little League Baseball Park in Belle Glade and any individuals or business firms wanting to make pledges may do so by calling 996-7646 between 12:30 p.m. Sunday Sept. 1 and 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 2.

Meredith is hopeful this year's telethon will be the best ever for Glades residents. In the past years most businesses have been closed because of the Labor holiday and there haven't been many pledges made, but maybe the trend will change this year, he said.

The telethon will be carried by WPEC-TV Channel 12 in West Palm Beach. Meredith indicated Belle Glade has a line to the coast so it won't be necessary to call WPEC directly for special request as they can be handled locally.

Although the Belle Glade Jaycees and Auxiliary are sponsoring the local telethon, more volunteer help is still needed. Anyone interested in working with the local telethon, please call 996-5339 after 5 p.m.

Meredith and his family has worked with the Labor Day Telethon for the past four years, his reason being that he and his wife have two healthy children while others have not been so fortunate.

"With that thought in mind, I hope the people in the Glades take part in this year's telethon by making a pledge. Remember if your children are healthy, show your appreciation by phoning in a pledge."

School Days!! School Days!!

Some 7,000 Students Report in Glades

School days, school days, dear old rotten school days!

About 7,000 Glades area students were singing that song Monday morning when they reported to the first day of class during the 1974-75 school year.

Official attendance records were not available from all schools, but the 7,000 figure is fairly close. Over at Glades Central High School where Charles McCurdy started his first day on the job he went to court to win, 937 students turned up.

McCurdy, who replaced Roy Carter as principal of the school, said he expected about 300 more students to report to class over the next 60 days.

Official figure for students reporting to public schools was 5660. The largest total was 3146 in the nine elementary schools in the west area.

The confusing total came in the "junior high" category. There were 937 students reporting to Glades Central-but only 642 of them were in 10 through 12. Some 295 were ninth graders and even though they go to a senior high school they are considered junior high students for county statistical purposes.

Pahokee High School is actually a junior-senior high which houses grades eight through 12. But only 235 of the students showing up for the first day of class were in grades 10 through 12. So this made the total 10 through 12 population 937-the exact figure of the number of students who started at Glades Central.

Lumped into the junior high category were 1,451 students culled from ninth grade at Glades Central, eighth and ninth at Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High and Lake Shore Junior High.

Two-hundred-and-fifty-eight students started kindergarten and there were 68 children in the exceptional child program at Gove Elementary.

Not all the teaching positions in the public schools have been filled in the Glades either. Eleven teachers are still needed.

Lake Shore Elementary needs one fifth and one sixth grade teacher, while Gladeview needs a fourth grade instructor. Eastlake needs one fifth grade and one sixth grade teacher plus two special education teachers.

Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High needs one special ed teacher, one math teacher and one DGT faculty member. Over in South Bay they need one special first teacher. Enrollment was down in the public schools over this time last year. Fifty fewer students reported for classes. At the peak of the season over 8,000 students will be enrolled in public schools in the Glades, an increase of 37 per cent over the current enrollment.

In the private schools the Baptist Christian Day School reported 535 children reporting in day care through 12. Some student openings are still available.

The Lutheran School reported 92 children enrolled, over 30 children below opening day last year. Openings for students are still available.

Glades Day School with campuses in both Pahokee and Belle Glade would not reveal exact enrollment figures.

"It is the highest we have ever had," said head mistress Miriam Burgess. "But it is board policy not to release the exact enrollment."

An estimated 500 children attend both campuses.

Apparently the first few days of school went smoothly for both private and public schools, according to official reports. There were no major problems reported except for the usual first day confusion.

The Women's regular softball season is finally over and for the first time in six years Wallis Pharmacy has not come out on top.

Timesaver squelched any hopes we might have about getting one last shot at the title by running over its last opponents, all except for Royal's who really gave them a scare-but lost in the final inning by one run.

There are only two games left now, the A and B Allstar game and the championship game, in which the winner of the Allstar game plays Timesaver.

Now one would think that since the best players are picked off each team, it would be a cinch for the allstar team to be real strong, right? Wrong. What isn't figured into the team is the various positions each player is in.

Ninety per cent of the players who are picked as allstars are infielders—don't ask me why. Maybe they have something against outfielders. Anyway, for instance the team I'm on (Team A) ended up with two first basemen, three second basemen, two shortstops and three third basemen. Interestingly enough, we didn't have any catchers or any of the teams named to one of the teams.

Luckily though, most of the girls named to these teams are good enough where they can switch positions on the team if they have to—which indeed some of them will.

Team A had their first practice Sunday while Team B was to wait until Tuesday night to work out.

The Allstar game was originally scheduled for last Tuesday night but due to a little confusion (which always reigns) it had to be switched to tonight. The championship game, however, will be played as originally scheduled, next Tuesday night, Sept. 3.

To celebrate their number one spot in the league, the Timesaver players threw a pool party at the Clewiston municipal pool and invited the Wallis players to join them (to rub it in a little, no doubt). Although several of the players from both teams were missing, everyone had a fine time splashing around.

The first pool party our team had this year, I was going to wait quite awhile before I went in swimming, but I really didn't get a chance because four or five girls jumped me and half dragged-half carried me to the edge of the pool before I was thrown in right on my back. But they didn't get a chance this time. I dove in almost as soon as I got there—it was pretty hot and besides those giant-size mosquitoes would've gotten me if I had waited.

After several girls had gotten into the pool, about four or five of us decided to play "horse" on the large innertube. Cheryl Waters had so thoughtfully brought. In case you have never heard of this game, the idea is to get several people on the tube on opposite sides and to start rocking the tube, doing it harder and harder so eventually someone falls off.

After several girls had gotten into the pool, about four or five of us decided to play "horse" on the large innertube. Cheryl Waters had so thoughtfully brought. In case you have never heard of this game, the idea is to get several people on the tube on opposite sides and to start rocking the tube, doing it harder and harder so eventually someone falls off.

It is usually played by two people, but all of us decided to give it a try. It took about 10 minutes to get everyone on and only a minute for everyone to fall off. What a flailing of arms and legs it was as somebody's knee struck another one in the face or an elbow hit a back. But it was worth it.

Afterwards, everyone got a shem-real treat from Wayne Sullivan when he started to sing while floating around in the innertube. We heard everything from Silence Is Golden to Delta Dawn—he really covered a wide area of tunes (eh, Wayne?), and of course some of the other girls had to try out their vocal chords along with him.

Unfortunately, we had to leave amidst the songs.

Oh well, that's it for now—see ya next week.

Timesaver Players Clinch First Place

The Queens are dead—long live the Queens. Timesaver women's softball team ended six years of frustration for the entire league last Wednesday night when they clinched first place in the Glade's Women's Softball League with a 23-6 thumping of Glades Sugar.

With that victory they dethroned the reigning champs, Wallis Pharmacy by half a game. Timesaver finished the year with a 15-1 record while Wallis finished with a 12-2 record.

Timesaver left no doubt they were out to clinch the deciding game early. They jumped on Glades Sugar pitcher Rosa Goodbread for six runs in the first inning of six hits. Their effort was helped along by three Glades Sugar errors.

The game really wasn't as close as the score indicates. Timesaver pitcher Linda Moss had a five hit, one run game going into the last inning. But Glades Sugar exploded for five runs in the bottom of the seventh on the strength of an Andrea Marotta home run. Glades Sugar finished the night with six runs on eight hits while Timesaver tallied 23 runs on 25 hits.

It was the first time in six years Wallis lost a game. And the dethroning was accomplished by a team which was the laughing stock of the league only four years ago.

Timesaver's only loss of the year was to Wallis, 14-7. Timesaver had both its first basemen and third baseman, and the night of the loss.

Wallis lost its first game of the year to Timesaver, 19-7. It was a makeshift Wallis team which lost with starting left fielder Cheryl Waters out with an injury and starting first baseman Ronnie Pike on vacation.

In the showdown match between the two teams, however, Wallis dropped it 7-1. Both teams were at full strength.

That meant somebody had to beat Timesaver in the last two weeks of the season. Wallis had another shot at the title. Royals almost pulled it off, but lost in the bottom of the seventh. Billy Thigpen's team could almost brag that it bumped off the two top teams in the league.

But almost wasn't enough. Timesaver ripped over the rest of its opponents. Glades Sugar was Wallis' last hope and that hope died in the first inning.

LINDA MOSS SLAMS FIRST OF TWO DOUBLES IN 23-6 VICTORY
Timesaver clinched first place edging out Wallis by one-half a game

Wallis winning the championship has been almost a tradition in Belle Glade. It had won the title six out of the eight years the league has been in existence.

In fact, the old cry of "break up the Yankees" changed to "break up Wallis Pharmacy" after team's first two championships. Only difference was the Yankees were never broken up—Wallis was. But they still went on to win four more championships in a row before losing to a young, aggressive Timesaver team this year.

So this year it will be Timesaver which must face an all star team rather than Wallis. Wallis won five of six all star games which traditionally comes at the end of the season.

The other seven teams in the league name their four best players as all stars. Those 28 women are divided into two teams of 14 each and square off in an all star game. The winner of that all star game plays the league champions.

This year's all star game will be played tonight at the Canal Point field at 8 p.m. Trophies for most valuable player and best sport on each team will be awarded before the game.

The game between Timesaver and the winning all star team will be played Tuesday, Sept. 3 at 8 p.m. at the Canal Point field.

Boat Safety Course to Be Held

Boating Safety and Seamanship is the name of an 8-session course to be presented by Flotilla 55, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. The class will be held on Monday nights, 7:30 p.m., at the Glades Central High School Library, beginning Sept. 9.

Members of Flotilla 55 will be teaching the course with the use of slides and films. Retired Captains from the coast will assist in the instruction and teach some of the lessons. Interested persons are asked to register at the first meeting with the cost of Text, Study Guide and registration of $4.00.

Several new boating laws have been put in effect during the past year and information will be presented on these. A new marine radio is being put into use—there are new regulations on personal flotation devices (life jackets) and all motorboats will soon have to be registered regardless of horsepower.

With the completion of this course and some advanced study in navigation and history, local residents will be qualified to join the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. Flotilla 55 presently has 25 members from Belle Glade, Pahokee, Clewiston, Moore Haven, Oklawaha, South Bay, Loxahatchee and Immokalee. Local members assist in Search and Rescue, Operations and Education and have fellowship through Rendezvous and practice sessions on the lake.

Raider Defense Shows Offense

Glades Central Raiders ended their two-day work outs with a twenty five minute scrimmage Friday evening with the defense overshadowing the offense by causing several fumbles and showing real quickness in pursuing the football. Defensive players who showed real quickness were: Ernest Jackson, Willie Terry, Nathaniel Howell, Connelius Brown, Willie Terry, and Ronald Jackson. Tackles were: Ernest Jackson, Timothy Canty and Robert Wester. Linebackers who looked good were: Calvin Wilks, Michael Washington, David Kinlaw and Lester Finney.

The secondary composed of Anthony Parrish, Hector Velaz, Willie Wright and Patrick Collier. They gave up four short passes in the scrimmage plus supporting the run aggressively.

The emphasis will be on improving blocking assignments and improving the timing in the backfield. Johnny Rutledge and David Philpott directed the offense.

Running the ball for the offense was Alexander Brown, Howard Moses, Norman Smith, Willie Terry, Nathaniel Howell, Anthony Burger, and Willie Clark. Coach Jay Seider feels much work is needed in pass blocking also.

The offensive line is starting to fall into place with Michael Pringle at split end, Davey Locke, Anthony Russell, Ernest Jackson and Clark Lloyd at tackle, David Kinlaw, Charles Ford, Allen Ives and Lester Finney guard with Dicky Sweet and Bruce Rimes at center.

The Raiders are getting ready for the big jamboree to be held a week from Friday at the Raider field. The Raiders will play the second quarter against Boca Raton and the fourth quarter against Martin County. Pahokee will play Martin County in the first quarter and Boca Raton in the fourth quarter. It will be the smaller schools against the bigger 4A schools in the jamboree.

There will be a punting, passing and extra point contest plus three 40 yard dashes for the backs, linemen and heavyweights. The punting, passing and extra point contests will start at 7:30 p.m. with the first quarter of the football scrimmage at 8:00 p.m. There will be kickoffs to start each game. Price of admission at the jamboree will be $1.00 at the gate. Season tickets will go on sale this week at the high school for the six home games. Price of the season tickets will be $12.50. Season tickets will be sold at the jamboree. So get yours early.

It All Adds Up

In these days of runaway food prices, general inflation, and well-meant complications like unit pricing, there's no doubt the American food shopper needs all the help he (or she) can get. Such help sometimes comes from quite unlikely sources. You might expect helpful hints from consumers' unions, food processors, civic organizations, and the like, but not from a big electronics manufacturer.

Expectations to the contrary, Casio, Inc., the pioneer electronic calculator company, has come up with a baker's dozen ways to help stretch the shrinking supermarket dollar. Here they are: 1. Don't shop on an empty stomach; pushing your cart around when you're hungry invariably makes you buy more food items. 2. Be aware of stores that give trading stamps. Some by have to pay the cost of these giveaways and it's usually you. Remember that "convenience" foods—those that are prepared in advance—just have to cost more than those you prepare yourself. Nobody works for nothing.

sons, Billy W. Rogerson of Brooklyn, N.Y. and Richard Moses of Belle Glade; two daughters, Mrs. Rosemary Shaw of Melbourne and Miss Debbie Lee Rogerson of Jacksonville; and her mother, Mrs. Bertha Sanders of Pahrakee.

Burial was at the family plot in Port Mayaca Cemetery. Pallbearers were W.R. Groover, Dahan Sutcliffe, Tony Dunaway and Holly Bowen. Mission Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

The Parson Pontificates

It seems to be fashionable today to grope after new ways to worship. To keep pace with the world, we must have songs with a new beat, prayers with a new twist, and new language to replace the old time-tested theological terms, such as sin and salvation. Those terms are too hard for the present generation to understand??? Now, there is nothing wrong with new approaches as long as they are reverent, appropriate, effective, sensible, and in good taste. Some things need to be new: new birth, new commitment, new ways to serve the Lord. But I doubt that our Lord, who "is the same yesterday, today and forever," is greatly impressed with our obsession with religious lads. (See Acts 11:21-31)

Group to Sing

The First Baptist Church of Belle Glade will host "The Turning Point," a Christian musical group, Friday Aug. 30 at 7:30 p.m.

Currently on a ten month concert tour around the country, the Turning Point group shares its Christian faith through music and testimonies in "churches," high schools, colleges and civic groups.

Their music and message speaks to all age groups, young and old, and everyone is invited to hear them.

Quartet to Appear

There will be a singing at the Pentecostal Holiness Church, 1121 W. Canal St., on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 at 8 p.m. The popular Buff Quartet from Telluride Plains, Tenn. will be the featured singers—this quartet will bless your heart with ministry in song. The pastor N.H. Connell extends a hearty welcome to all.

MUSICAL CHAIRS

"Dear Mr. Swaim: My husband can't settle down to a job, he goes from one to another like musical chairs. We have no security and it's really getting to me. I sometimes think I'm going to lose my mind."

Your feelings of insecurity are understandable, but don't forget the nature of life itself is change. It is true that some people want security more than anything else, but security at best is temporary. The Bible teaches, "Ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time and then vanisheth away." Let me hasten to say that a man should be willing to find and develop a good job responsibility. Your husband, no doubt, needs to learn that there is no perfect job, that every responsibility has its assets as well as its liabilities, its good points as well as its bad ones. As a Christian, though, you should remember that the Bible speaks of being "Strangers and pilgrims on earth," [Hebrews 11:13]. We have no permanent home here. We are looking for that city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God. The only security we can ever find is to be found in Jesus, and by putting Him first in our lives, other opportunities and responsibilities will fall into place. For a confidential and Biblical answer to your questions, write Larry Swaim, 385 Ponce de Leon Avenue, NE, Atlanta, Georgia 30306.

Anecdota Interesante

Se cuenta que en cierta ocasion la hija de una familia que acostumbraba a ir a la iglesia regularmente y como es natural, escuchaba a sus padres comentar el valor de la misma.

En cierta ocasion en la cual jugaba con algunas amigas, su muneca preferida quedo estropeada al caer alguien sobre el coche donde la habian puesto. La nina llorando, como la muneca, y salio corriendo hacia la iglesia. Al llegar a la misma pregunto al Clerigo: "Es aqui donde remiendan corazones?"

Ojala que esta anecdota sencilla nos ayude a buscar las iglesias y en ellas al Cristo que "remienda" nuestros corazones quebrantados y los "enmienda" a la vez.

El domingo asista a la iglesia de su predileccion.

Committee Studying Land Protection

Environmental protection for land in southwest Palm Beach County is under study by the Palm Beach County Land Exchange Committee. Director of the Department of Natural Resources, Harmon Shields, recently appointed Rep. Tom Lewis to serve on that committee.

"I heard about the work of the committee from the members of the Florida Wildlife Federation," Lewis said, "and I was very interested in the nature of the work which is being done."

"As the name indicates, environmentally endangered land in southwest Palm Beach County is being studied for possible land exchange in other areas of the county or state," Lewis said, "most of the land in that area of the county is owned by a few large landowners, and if drained could be used for agricultural production."

"Draining is just what we on the committee are afraid of," said the North Palm Beach legislator, "heavy draining causes the land to dry out, and prolonged drying is a perfect way to start combustion in that Glades muck."

"As we all know, fires in that area deplete the wildlife and destroy the ecological balance of those swamp areas," Lewis said.

"Another reason for keeping the area undeveloped," said Lewis, "is to maintain the proper water level throughout the swamplands to further protect and preserve the wildlife. In fact, southwest Palm Beach County has the highest rate for deer production in Florida, and possibly the entire United States. Without water, the deer would die."

The Land Exchange Committee presently is determining which sections of land are in greatest environmental danger. Aerial viewing is being conducted, as well as a closer look by aircraft or jeep. When the final recommendations are brought before the committee, the land owners will be given the opportunity of exchanging endangered lands for other lands. The landowners in the southwest portion of Palm Beach County have agreed to the exchange method.

"This land is actually a part of the Everglades," said Lewis, "I am most grateful that Harmon Shields has given me this opportunity to help preserve a small part of Florida for the generations to come."

O'Malley Appointed

TALLAHASSEE, FLA. - Florida Insurance Commissioner-Treasurer Thomas D. O'Malley was appointed yesterday as the new chairman of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners Technical Subcommittee on the Valuation of Bonds and Other Securities.

O'Malley, who prior to the new appointment was vice-chairman of the subcommittee, says they are "taking a look at the way bonds are valued in investment portfolios of all insurance companies to see if new valuation procedures need to be adopted."

He said a study is being undertaken to decide if companies writing fire and casualty coverages should set up reserves for securities to offset fluctuations in the bond and stock market similar to the reserves now required of life insurance companies.

The subcommittee is also looking, he said, into "strengthening investment reserves which now apply to life companies and may in the future also apply to fire and casualty companies."

The Florida Commissioner is serving a third term as chairman of the Consumer Participation Subcommittee of the Commissioners' National Association. He is also a member of eight others dealing with various aspects of insurance.

Insuring Fake Furs

The standard limitation for theft of personal property in the homeowners policy is 50% of the insured value of the home. However, for a certain class of valuables—furs, jewelry, precious stones, etc., the aggregate limit is normally set at $500. Naturally, it is prudent to insure these items separately for their full value to avoid monetary loss.

To be classified as fur it has to come off the back of an animal. Any animal will do—from mink to moose. It then falls under this $500 limitation.

On the other hand, fake furs, although they could cost even more than the real McCoy, are not furs. They are made of fabrics woven to resemble furs, and in some cases it takes an expert to distinguish them from real fur. Fake furs, therefore, do not come under this limitation and would be covered to the same extent as your other personal property. I guess this is the insurance industry's way of unknowingly protecting our animal kingdom.
